

CONTENTS

The title of each chapter is accompanied by information about the photo that precedes it. Unless otherwise indicated, all photos are by the author.

Relatively Speaking. An Introduction The Rio Grande from West Mesa, Albuquerque	3
Homecoming View from Sandia Crest	9
“The Cutting Edge of the Struggle.” An Interview with Rudolfo Anaya Rudolfo Anaya reading from The Farolitos of Christmas to a young public at Bookworks, Albuquerque (1997)	17
Doubles: Strategies of Sense Production in Rudolfo Anaya’s “The Man Who Found a Pistol” Corrales, northern New Mexico	31
The Desert and the Seed: Three Stories by Rudolfo Anaya Beautiful Valley, northeastern Arizona	41
Le dieci e una notte di Serafina The ruins of the Franciscan mission at Pecos, northern New Mexico	57
The Mountain Lion Jemez Valley, northwestern New Mexico	65
The Soul of the Southwest White Sands, southern New Mexico	71
“Unbecoming an Educated Man and Becoming a Kind of Peasant.” Stanley Crawford’s Double World Stanley Crawford at home in Dixon, northern New Mexico (1988)	77
Da Gascoyne a Log of the S.S. The Mrs Unguentine: dall’attuale al capolavoro St. Anthony church in Dixon, New Mexico	95

Cimarron, New Mexico	103
Main street, Cimarron, northern New Mexico
"Proletarian by Choice." An Interview with John Nichols	109
John Nichols in front of his house in Taos, northern New Mexico (1992)
Lui e la ragazza: John Nichols e l'elegia per un settembre	127
The Rio Grande Gorge near Taos, New Mexico
Visit Historic Florence, Arizona	135
The Pinal County desert, southern Arizona (photo by Millicent I. Lim)
The Case of Tony Hillerman. An Interview	141
Tony Hillerman at home in North Valley, Albuquerque (1991)
On Second Mesa, Arizona	153
Castle Butte. Navajo Reservation, Arizona
Tony Hillerman: il giallo si addice a Albuquerque	159
The San Juan River gooseneck, southern Utah
New Mexico, Terra dell'Incanto. E del poliziesco	177
Cochiti, northern New Mexico
"A Joke That Only Works If Nobody Gets It." An Interview with Walter Satterthwait	195
Cadillac Ranch, west of Amarillo, Texas Panhandle
"Giving Voice to What People Are Thinking at the Time." An Interview with Judith Van Gieson	203
Monument Valley, Navajo Reservation. Northeastern Arizona
"The Infidel in the Mess." An Interview with Steve Brewer	211
Steve Brewer presenting his End Run to the famous Sophie at the Clues Unlimited mystery bookstore in Tucson, Arizona (photo by Millicent I. Lim, 2000)
Due ciottoli per Standing Deer	225
Canyon de Chelly, eastern Arizona
The Eagle Feather and the Circle	233
San Ildefonso Pueblo, northern New Mexico
Tombe (indiane) e tombaroli	239
Canyonland, southeastern Utah
Silverton, Colorado	245
On the way to Grand Junction, western Colorado
I saguari a noleggìo: John Ford, Ernest Haycox, e la vendita del West	251
North Window, Monument Valley. Northeastern Arizona

Ultimi tanghi, con o senza lupi: le variazioni su tema di Kevin Costner e di Clint Eastwood	265
Monument Valley, northeastern Arizona
Reflections on a Roadside Statement	271
Corrales, New Mexico
Charles Fletcher Lummis on the Road	281
Grand Canyon, northwestern Arizona
Stereotypes of the American Indians and the Italian Media	289
Puye Cliff ruins, Pajarito Plateau, northern New Mexico
Valley of the Gods, Utah	299
View from Mokey Dugway, southern Utah
Descansos	303
A descanso on State Road 68, northern New Mexico
Works Cited	309
A specialized bookstore in Albuquerque
Index of Names	323
A book signing event at Bookworks, Albuquerque
Index of Toponyms	333
The famous Blue Swallow Motel in Tucumcari, eastern New Mexico

.....

Nogales, Mexico. The infamous steel fence (photo by Millicent I. Lim)